

The Oakheaven Archives Cheat sheet

I HIGHLY RECCOMEND WEARING HEADPHONES, AT LEAST FOR THE SEONCD PART OF THIS EXPERIENCE (THE NEOCITIES BLOG SECTION) AS AUDIO PLAYS A BIG PART TOWARDS THE END

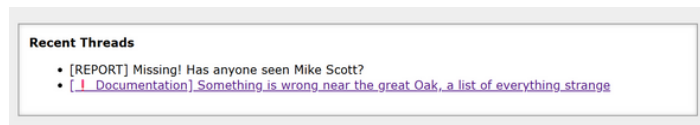

1. Download the file and find the link to the blog
2. Click on the '[report] missing' thread

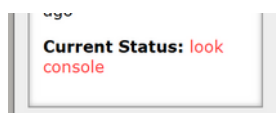

3. Oh? what's this, someone's online on an abandoned forum?

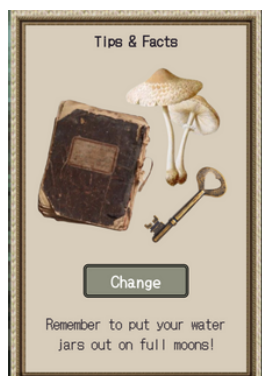

4. Remember to explore the blogs and forums you come across, part of the puzzle is the actual content. After that the next step is the '[! documentation]' thread

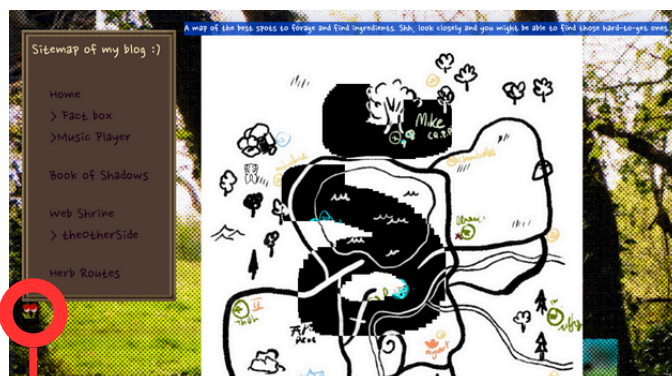

5. Oh look, someone else is online now.
6. Looks like entity haunting the website and guiding you is trying to give you a clue. (p.s the bio also has a similar clue)

- 6.The new blog has so much to explore, so many hints and clues. Remember to read through them to find the truth about mike and Oakheaven

Hidden facts

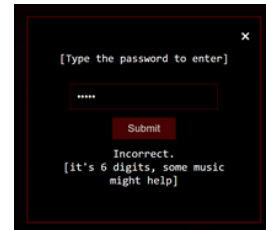

Hidden maps uncovered through secret buttons

7.You can solve the mystery and stop there of venture further and ignore the warnings of the spirit (mike btw in case you didn't catch the message when the text was glitching) and go the "WEB SHRINE" page and scroll down

theGreenWitc
Posted on May 20,
It's mike left the
Commts (0) |

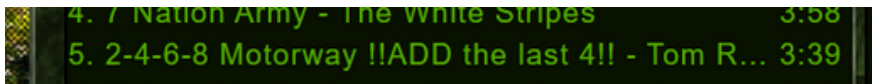

8.Click on the eye and find the password. You'll get a clue after the first attempt

9.Hm music? where'd you last see something about music on the website? maybe the cassette?

10.This will open a winamp player. The song titles have numbers. But there's too many numbers (p.s you can play the music too if you want)

11. The answer is: 3 30 7 (2+4+6+8) aka 330720

12.Sometimes a verbal agreement is more than enough to sign away your soul. Say 'yes i am'

13.You're done! (with the puzzles) congrats. Move around a bit and enjoy the visuals. click the button to 'pray' to your new god and reach the end. I suggest spending a few seconds on the last page.

14.If you have some time, feel free to go back and leave a comment about your thought! or read through the others :D

